

What are the top three things you think we need to teach the next generation of scientists?

*In an astroinformatics context